SCHEDULE

(Article 2)

PRESCRIBED CIRCUMSTANCES

Case 1

There has been inadequate management of the affairs of a financial service business carried on by a person (“the person”).

Note Such inadequate management may be evidenced, in particular, by –

- (a) the dishonesty of a principal person of the person;
- (b) any person committing a serious breach of a fiduciary duty in respect of the person’s financial service business;
- (c) the person having insufficient resources to continue to carry on the financial service business effectively;
- (d) a serious failure by the person to maintain proper records;
- (e) the existence of a conflict of interests that may prevent the interests of the person’s financial service business or customers or potential customers being properly protected;
- (f) the person committing serious and persistent breaches of the Law or any of the Codes of Practice or Orders made under the Law;
- (g) the death or incapacity or prolonged absence of a principal person of the person to the detriment of the financial service business of the person.

Case 2

The person carrying on the financial service business appears to have ceased to do so but has failed to wind up, liquidate, close or transfer the business in an orderly manner or at all.

Case 3

The person carrying on the financial service business has persistently failed to examine claims or complaints of customers.

Case 4

The person carrying on the financial service business is not registered under the Law to carry on financial service business of that type.

Case 5

There is a need to appoint a manager to collect, protect or preserve the assets or records of the financial service business or the property of the customers of the business, or both.

Case 6

There is a need to appoint a manager to avoid circumstances arising that could provide grounds for a forced closure of the financial service business.

Case 7
